President Wilson and his bride are spending a very quiet honeymoon at Hot Springs, Va. They occupy a suite of four rooms on the third floor of the hotel seen in the photograph.

DELINQUENTS MUST PAY POLL TAXES TO COUNTY

Under direction of the county board of commissioners, county attorney Joseph E. Evans has begun civil actions in the justice courts to collect delinquent poll taxes. Yesterday afternoon the sheriff of the county was given about 300 summonses for service, which will keep the deputies busy during the holiday time.

The cost of service will be $1 and the money for the officer will be 20 cents for each mile actually traveled, so that in some instances, even though the delinquent should decide to settle the account before the case comes to trial, the poll tax for the year 1915 will come rather high. The tax is $2.

NEW ARM STUMP IS GRAFTED ON SOLDIER

London, Dec. 25.—A new arm stump has just been grafted upon the body of a British officer, who lost both arms in action and came back recently with a group of exchanged prisoners from Germany. His arms were amputated so close to the shoulder as to leave no stumps.

One of the most brilliant of London's surgeons has now built out a new stump to which an artificial arm was attached. He did this by taking out a piece of bone from the patient's leg and cutting a flap of skin from his body. Muscles were attached to the bone, so that the stump can be guided.

YOUNG BOY TAKEN BACK TO MOTHER

The thoughts of Gould Porter, the 13-year-old Shelley, Ida, boy who was taken into custody by local police officers Wednesday night with a large Colt's revolver in his possession, were turned from gloom to delight Saturday afternoon by the arrival of Deputy Sheriff H. T. Child of Shelley, at the local police station for the purpose of taking him home for Christmas. The lad, entirely cured of his desire to remain away from his mother, had been waiting in suspense for two days, fearing that his Christmas must be spent in jail and he received the news that he was to be taken home with tears of joy.

He departed for Shelley yesterday afternoon with the Idaho officer, who also took the big revolver with him.

DESPOUDENT MAN ENDS HIS LIFE

San Francisco, Dec. 26.—Evading the watchfulness of physicians and nurses in the Buena Vista sanitarium, Dr. Cary Rice Montgomery of Columbus, Ohio, blew out his brains at the hospital this morning. Dr. Montgomery was 60 years old, and had practiced medicine for more than thirty years in Ohio. About six months ago he came to San Francisco and accepted a position as special nurse to Paul Friedman, retired San Francisco merchant, an aged patient in the Buena Vista sanitarium. Dr. Montgomery complained of being discouraged with life. This morning he was seen to hide a revolver beneath his pillow. It was planned to get possession of the weapon by a nurse.

An attaché of the hospital was sent to tell Dr. Montgomery that Dr. Long wanted to see him. Dr. Montgomery said he would come in a few minutes. When the attaché left the physician shot himself. Letters, addressed to a daughter, Mrs. Grace Adair, in Columbus, showed Dr. Montgomery to be in a despondent mood.

SEVEN DEATHS IN GREAT STORM

New York, Dec. 26.—One of the worst storms the east has seen in many years—rain, hail and snow, accompanied by thunder and lightning and a gale that reached a maximum velocity of ninety miles an hour—descended from the northwest early today as the aftermath of a Christmas fog. It indirectly caused seven deaths in this vicinity, carried down telegraph wires, damaged shipping, crippled railroad traffic and caused considerable property damage.

The phenomenon of thunder and lightning in the midst of a driving snow awakened New Yorkers at the height of the storm about 7 o'clock this morning. A gale from the south, accompanied by rain, had been taken during the night, but the temperature dropped during the early morning hours, changing the rain to hail and then to snow. The local weather bureau reported a total precipitation of 5.2 inches, of which 2.8 was snow.

Twenty-five persons aboard fifteen canal boats driven ashore off Sandy Hook were rescued by the coast guard cutter at that point. Those saved included the wives and children of the boats' captains. James O'Neill, in command of one of the boats, was knocked into the sea by a flying board, a Norfolk for New England, port sprang a leak and sank twelve miles east of Ambrose lightship. Seven

Erie railroad barges loaded with automobiles sank in the East river.

The deaths in the city resulting from the gale occurred this morning while the blinding snowstorm was at its height. A fireman was fatally injured while responding to an alarm. A woman was run over by a street car. Another woman collapsed and died in the street while battling against the gale on her way to church. Scores of persons were more or less seriously injured.

A flagman at Totenville, Staten Island, was blown in front of a train and killed instantly. A bicyclist riding in a heavy rain this morning ran into an automobile at Mineola and was fatally injured. His wife, who was riding with him, also suffered injuries from which she may die. An aged man fell on an icy pavement in Newark and died of a fractured skull on his way to a hospital.

TWO PERSONS LOSE LIVES IN PENNSYLVANIA

Philadelphia, Dec. 26.—Two men lost their lives in snowdrifts and considerable damage was done to property by a snowstorm which swept over this state today. In this city the fall of snow was comparatively light and quickly melted, but in the upstate section nearly a foot of snow fell and was blown by the heavy winds into high drifts, which completely blocked many country roads and tied up tream and electric railway traffic. The ice covered telephone and telegraph wires, many of them breaking in many sections.

THERE'S GOOD IN THE WORST OF US--MUSTANG

Character in the rough is admirably portrayed in "There's Good in the Worst of Us," offered for release under the Mustang brand, on the regular Mutual program, December 10. In this stirring episode of western life, Anna Little stars as Carol Danforth, the girl from the east; and E. Forrest Taylor impersonates Black Pete, the gambler, who, through many years, never has forgotten the wrong once done his sister. When he again meets the man whom he has sworn to shoot on sight, he finds himself face to face with Carol Danforth's fiancé. The situation is intensely dramatic. How fate works out Pete's revenge, and how Carol wakes to discover herself in love with the frontier adventurer, conclude a story of absorbing interest.

Tiring of the east and the conventionalities of the social circle in which she spent her time, Carol Danforth, handsome and extremely wealthy in her own right, starts for the west. On the morning of her departure, she is met by her mother, who proceeds to the Eagle house, the only hotel the surroundings boasted, and registered. That same evening, Carol wandered into the "Hole in the Wall," a notorious dive operated by the equally notorious "Black Pete," who, according to the best informed citizens of the town, boasted that the handle of his Colt bore more notches than any similar weapon for miles around. "Black Pete," at sight of the beautiful young girl, decides to claim her for his own. But Paul Ainsley, her fiancé, who made the trip west with her, decides to interfere, and protests against her apparent friendship for the notorious dive-keeper. Later, Ainsley visits the resort operated by "Black Pete." He warns him to have nothing more to do with the girl. Informed by the dive-keeper that he had promised to shoot and killed the first easterner he met, Ainsley, fearing for his life, flees the place. While taking a dangerous turn in the road, his mount stumbles, hurling him heavily to the ground. Later, when several riders bring their horses to a stop and examine the body lying in the roadway, they announce him as dead, and bring the body to the town with them. Some days later, "Black Pete," tagged out in the best store clothes he could procure, called on Carol at her hotel and told her how, years before, while attending college in the east Ainsley, pretending to love his sister, won her confidence and then wronged her, and fled. Then Carol wakes to the realization that she loves this burly man of the plains.

DISCONTENT IN ALL ENGLAND

London, Dec. 26, 11:35 p. m.—Christmas passed without heavy fighting anywhere on the European fronts. The United Kingdom, however, witnessed a general abandonment of the truce between the political parties, which was observed during the early months of the war, and which apparently was cemented for the duration of the war when the coalition government was formed.

The past week has seen a steady growth of the newspaper attacks on the government, the general burden of which is the slowness, the lack of foresight and decision and the mismanagement of the Dardanelles campaign. While all newspapers disclaim any partisan motives, all the more prominent ones participating in the opposition belong to the Conservative party, with the exception of the Manchester Guardian.

The newspapers generally hold Premier Asquith responsible for the conduct of affairs. The Northcliffe group, headed by the Times and the Daily Mail, with the support of the Morning Post, was joined today by the Observer, which is the foremost Sunday paper, and the Referee, which has a large audience among the masses.

David Lloyd-George is the only candidate advanced for succession. He commanded Lord Northcliffe's support some time ago in his speech charging the government with being "too late" at the most important crisis of the war and at the same time gained for himself a large following.

The two latest counts of the indictment of the cabinet after the postponement until after the holiday of the munitions bill and the postponement of giving the country any insight into results. In the meantime the verdict of union labor on Mr. Lloyd-George's

APPEAL TO RELAX UNION RULES IN MUNITIONS WORKS

Saloniki, Center of Interest.
Speculation over the development of an attack of the entente allies at Saloniki continues. Some papers credit the central powers with a plan to beat down on Saloniki from three sides, the Germans forming the center, with the Turks and Bulgarians on the left and right wings, respectively.

AEROPLANE SHOT DOWN BY TURKS

Constantinople, via London, Dec. 26, 5:50 p. m.—The official statement issued today says:

Our encircling movement on the enemy's position at Kut-el-Amara is progressing well on all sides. We have bombarded the enemy positions and stores with good results.

At the Dardanelles on December 24 our artillery thrice hit an enemy cruiser which attempted to approach in Saros bay. The cruiser withdrew. The same afternoon an enemy cruiser and torpedo boat fired some shells on Kiretch Tepeh, Blyuk Kemikie and An Burnu. Our artillery hit the torpedo boat.

Near Seddul Bahr our artillery caused considerable damage to the enemy trenches before our left wing. An enemy aeroplane was shot down near Birelsabe. We captured the pilot, a French Captain, Baron de Ceran. A British lieutenant, acting as observer, was killed.

DUEL FOUGHT ON STREETS OF PRICE

Price, Dec. 26.—Frank Gojen is in a serious condition from the loss of blood, while Price and vicinity is being combed by officers for his assailant, Frank Armandaris, as the result of a duel which took place shortly before midnight Saturday in front of Carbon hotel.

Gojen was shot four times—twice in the right arm, once in the right shoulder and once in the back—but he is expected to live. In the excitement which followed the encounter, Armandaris made an escape, and the officers have thus far been unable to find him.

According to Sheriff L. H. Henry, the duel was the result of ill-feeling of long standing between the two principals. It is said by the sheriff that Gojen had circulated gossip among members of the Spanish and French colonies here that was not complimentary to Armandaris or his friend, Pete Barnajos, who is employed as a bartender and clerk in the Carbon hotel.

Barnajos stated today that Gojen came down from Standardville Friday and exhibited to his friends an automatic pistol and a well-filled cartridge belt. Saturday night he is alleged to have collected a number of friends and begun a search for Armandaris. They met in front of the Carbon hotel and the duel opened. Armandaris proved the better marksman, as none of Gojen's bullets took effect.

PERSIA IS FOR RUSSIAN ARMS

London, Dec. 26.—"The Persian cabinet has fallen," says the Teheran correspondent of Reuters' Telegraph company. "Prince Firman Firma has been nominated premier by the shah. This is considered a great diplomatic victory for the entente allies."

Prince Firman Firma was appointed a member of the Persian cabinet in November. A news dispatch at that time said that the prince was considered a Russophile.

No surprises was caused here by the report of the cabinet's fall, as it had been shown for some time that the shah planned changes in his ministry.

Following his reception of the British and French ministers last month, he replaced two strongly pro-German ministers with Prince Firman Firma and Prince Enunoud Daoule, both leaders of the pro-Russian party.

FATHER SAVES HIS DAUGHTER

Molena, Ga., Dec. 26.—Refused a farewell kiss by Miss Ida Heaton at 5 o'clock this morning after she had told him she intended to postpone their wedding, which had been announced for next Wednesday, Levi Stribbling shot at the girl, but missed.

Miss Heaton ran into her home and Stribbling followed. He was met by the girl's father, who shot him dead as he was again trying to shoot Miss Heaton.

Stribbling and the girl went to a dance last night and upon the way home quarreled. Stribbling secured a revolver and returned to the Heaton home. He called the girl to the door and asked for a farewell kiss. She refused and the tragedy followed. Both families are prominent. There have been no arrests.

CONSCRIPTION NOW IN SIGHT

London, Dec. 27.—A cabinet meeting will be held today and it is expected will make a decision on the question of whether the results of the Derby scheme of recruiting justify continued adherence to the voluntary system, or whether some form of conscription will become necessary.

The Times suggests this morning that the conscriptionists are in a majority in the cabinet and that, should force be decided upon, some anti-conscriptionist ministers will resign. They however, will not go to this extreme until all hope of securing unity in the cabinet is abandoned. Their plan, according to the Times, is to give the single men another chance for a fortnight, during which time the serious position would be brought home and that if this plan still failed to bring the men to the scratch, these ministers will reluctantly abandon their opposition to conscription.

General Election Possible.
Another solution of the problem is a general election on the question, and it is stated that the ministers also have discussed such a solution.

The Times's military correspondent who is evidently skeptical of the success of the Derby scheme, urges the house of commons to insist in the coming debate that the report shall reveal the total deficit in the army. He infers that the battalions are not being kept up to their proper strength and that the whole question of the numbers abroad and at home needs close examination.

The correspondent concludes that the allies, counting only the men actually at the front, have about six million to the enemy's five million, but that this superiority has been almost reduced to equality by the strategy of the past year and by the special conditions of the Italian theater which enabled some three hundred thousand to four hundred thousand Austrians to hold up the Italians.

"It is impossible to win the war without greatly superior numbers," he concludes, and still less possible to win it soon. Therefore, provision for such numbers is the primary duty of the allies."

BRUTAL MURDER IN NORTH CAROLINA

Asheville, N. C., Dec. 26.—John Hayes, a young farmer of Tryon, N. C., is dead from a load of buckshot, and Frank Foster of the same place is held by the authorities as the result of a shooting today in the presence of two young women whose identities were not disclosed. Reports re-

PEACE PROJECT PROVES FAILURE

London, Dec. 27, 3:24 a. m.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Copenhagen, says that the members of the Ford peace party have decided to make Copenhagen their headquarters instead of The Hague, as previously announced.

Stockholm, via London, Dec. 26, 4:20 p. m.—Mrs. Nez Millholl and Louise van of New York, who withdrew from the Ford peace expedition, Saturday, presented at a public meeting of the delegates today a long statement of her reasons for doing so and for believing the project was doomed to failure.

"The method employed by the managers of the expedition is repugnant to my principles," she said. "Instead of all the members formulating plans, the work has been confined to a few specially selected persons. When the party embarked on the Oscar II, I took it for granted that the rather vague opinion of the body of delegates would be hammered into effective shape by group action and constructive thinking throughout the voyage."

"An organization was not formed until three days before the end of the voyage. To that fact I trace all misunderstandings, dissensions, mistakes in policy, inefficiency and inability to get the idea of a mediating peace congress in comprehensive shape before the public."

"The organization, when finally formed, was abortive. The Scandinavian public, which expected clear thinking and a definite program, were skeptical about the serious-mindedness of the delegates. At the meetings the discussions have been purely private, with the result of ill-feeling, suspicion and condemnation. For the reasons stated, I am unable to continue with the party."

Gaston Plantiff, the personal representative of Mr. Ford, requested Mrs. Bolseval to remain with the expedition, but without avail.

Since the departure of the expedition from New York, three weeks ago, no meetings have been held at which peace plans were discussed. Most of the discussions have taken place

TROOPS PREVENT NEGRO LYNCHING

Muskogee, Okla., Dec. 26.—While a mob of several hundred men surrounded the county jail here tonight threatening to lynch two negroes accused of slaying a patrolman, 200 armed negroes kept silent guard in the derelict of a vacant lot across the street, who had announced intention of opening fire to rescue the accused men should the mob obtain custody of them.

Company F of the Oklahoma national guard, which was called out early tonight when the mob assumed serious proportions, and which repulsed two assaults on the jail, waited with fixed bayonets and rifles loaded with ball cartridges for another attack.

One of the repulsed attacks resulted in the battering down of the jail door but the men in the forefront of the mob, carrying a piece of railroad rail as a battering ram, were driven back before they could get inside.

To add to the complicated situation, it was rumored that a posse of Cherokee Indians had organized at Tahlequah and started for Muskogee, 25 miles away, determined to avenge the slaying of their fellow tribesman, Sam Neal, the patrolman whom the two negroes, William Green and Matthis Foreman, are accused of killing while resisting arrest.

While the mob still waited before the jail near midnight, the two negroes were dressed in the uniforms of militiamen and hurried out a rear door. Under heavy guard, they were taken safely around the mob to the outskirts of the city, where automobiles were waiting to carry them to another city, presumably Tulsa.

Later, when it was announced to the mob that Green, the negro accused of killing Neal, had been taken away, the mob dispersed quietly. The armed negroes across the street also abandoned their vigil and thus ended a situation which had been growing more serious momentarily, finally causing threats from the white men that they would charge unless the negroes went home.

SKILLED LABOR IS MUCH NEEDED
Christiania, Dec. 25.—The Scandinavian countries lately have been canvassed by agents from foreign countries trying to engage skilled laborers especially for the manufacture of ammunition and saddles. The result has not been very remarkable, as opportunities for skilled laborers at home are greater than ever. Only a few from workers have left Norway for England to work in ammunition plants during the past six months.

The good labor conditions here will also affect the emigration to the United States—which is expected to be much smaller this year than in former years.
